Gray

In his "Genealogy of the Gray Family",(1) M. D. Raymond says: "The name Gray is of local origin, that is, following the name of a place in Burgundy, France. The name was originally Croy, DeCroy, DeGray, Gray. Grey in England and Ireland; Gray in Scotland; Gray in America. The Grays came to England with William the Conqueror in 1066.... The Gray family in America is numerous, widespread and consists of many diverse branches. They were among the Pilgrims of New England, the Quakers of Pennsylvania, were also early settlers of Virginia and other Southern states. Within the first century, from 1620 to 1720, researches made warrant the estimate that at least twenty different families of Grays, or different branches of the same family, had emigrated to this country and made their homes in the new world."

When a man decided to come to America, he might assemble a company of people to come as one party. The one who took the responsibility of organizing and leading the company received a grant of fifty acres of land for each person in his party. Persons thus brought over were called "head rights." Sometimes they were relatives and sometimes they paid the person who headed the company a sum for their passage. Again, a well established Colonial might import a company without heading it up in person. Occasionally, the claim of a man for head rights was not put in for several years after the company had arrived, depending upon whether he was ready to clear the land and cultivate it, as stipulated in the agreement.

George Cabell Greer, in his "Early Virginia Emigrants, 1623 to 1666", (2) lists several William Grays as head rights, one in each of the years 1650, 1652, 1654 and 1656. However, a search of the records in the different counties indicated as their destinations has failed to show that any of them was the William Gray of old Lancaster County (3) with whom we are here concerned. The latter was married and had children prior to the dates mentioned by Greer. His wife and children were not listed among the head rights with any of the William Grays whom Greer lists.

Just when William Gray of old Lancaster Country, his wife Elizabeth and their children came to Virginia, we have not sufficient proof to say. The first authentic record we have is found in the old Lancaster tithes, written in the old Order Book. William Gray was charged in the county levy with two tithes. He paid seventy-four and one-half pounds of tobacco on each to John Payne, collector, in 1656. Only males were listed in the old tithes, and sixteen years was generally accepted as the age at which the individual was taxed. Therefore, William and Elizabeth Gray had a son who was at least sixteen years old in 1656.

In the same year, William Clapham, Sr., gave a deed to William Gray and Henry Peters for 300 acres of land. "Know yee unto all men by these present that I, Will Clapham, the elder, of Lancaster County, have assigned over all my right and title and interest of that patent of land of 300 acres from mee, my heirs, assigns, etc... unto Henry Peters and William Gray... 6 day September

(3) Lancaster was formed from Northumberland and York in 1651. Old Rappahannock was formed from Lancaster in 1656. Essex and Richmond were formed from old Rappahannock in 1692.

1656. William Clapham Sr."

This transaction is important, for references to this land at later dates enable us to identify this William Gray as one of the ancestors we are tracing.

The next year, a deed of partition was recorded between William Gray and Henry Peters of land lying on the south side of the Rappahannock, formerly the land of William Clapham, Sr.

In Deed Book 1656 to 1664, (4) page 104, of the old Rappahannock records, we find the following: "Deed of one black cow calf with a white belly, a swallow forke in the right ear and a crop of three slitts in the left...to be recorded for Margery Gray, the daughter of William Gray...recorded December, 1659."

In 1663, there is recorded the sale of land to William Wilton, for four hundred pounds of tobacco, the said land being part of the dower of Elizabeth Gray; the document is signed by both William Gray and Elizabeth, his wife. Thus we know the names of his wife and one daughter, Margery, and that he had a son at least 16 years old in 1656.

On page 26 of the Deed Book last mentioned, is the following: "An assignment from Humphrey Booth to Capt. William Gray, February 1656 Witnessed by Thomas Goodrich and Anthony Stephens." This transfer was of land granted to Booth by Samuel Matthews in 1656 of fifty acres.(5)

Among the early grants, we find that: "William Berkley, Lieut. Governor, give and grant unto William Gray and Christopher

(4) These old Rappahannock records are now at Tappahannock, in Essex County, and there are transcripts of them in Richmond.

(5) In the document, the name Gray is not entirely clear; a commentator has added: "Name rubbed, but apparently Gray."

Blackbourne 775 acres of land lying on the South side of Rappahannock and bounding upon ye land of James Gaines...said land being due for transportation of six persons...ye 26th of October, 1666."

At the same time, Governor Berkley granted unto William Gray 363 acres in the same county and on the same stream, being due for the transportation of eight persons.

In October, 1668, William Gray and Christopher Blackbourne patented 1138 acres of land, joining James Gaines.

On September the 6th, 1671, William Gray gives power of attorney to his trusty friend, William Mosley, and on July 20th, 1673, he makes his will. From it, we learn that his wife Elizabeth is dead and he has married Maudlin Ingram. He gives his sons John and Warwick 728 acres to be equally divided between them. To his sons William and Abner, 461 acres, to be equally divided. Others mentioned are Toby and Thomas Ingram, stepsons, daughter Mary Gray, grandchild Elizabeth Bowler. James Bowler, son-in-law, and wife, Maudlin Gray, are named as executor and executrix. No mention is made of his daughter Margery, but we learn later that she is the wife of James Bowler.

In 1682, the accounts of the estate of William Gray were recorded, debts paid, etc. "Balance of the Estate which has not been divided but now to be given Orphans of dec'd 3836 pounds."

Of his sons, John Gray left no written will, but a verbal one was proved in 1695 and Elizabeth Gibson received his estate.

Warwick Gray sold 200 acres of land, part of the patent formerly belonging to William Gray and Henry Peters, to James Boulware in 1696. He also sold 150 acres to Paul Micou, which was a part of this same patent.

Warwick made his will on June 14, 1699, giving all his lands and plantation to William Gray, the son of Abner Gray and Sarah Bowler, the daughter of James Bowler Sr., "to them and their heirs forever, to be equally divided between them in quantity and quality...."

There is a record of Abner Gray selling land,which was a part of the land patented by Wm. Gray and Christopher Blackbourne, to John Andrews in 1706.

Abner Gray's will was dated Oct. 17, 1716. In it, he names his wife Sarah, his sons Abner, William, daughters Margery Harris, Margaret and Dinah.

William Gray, the fourth son, made his will on April 11, 1742, naming his wife Mary, sons John and William, daughters Sarah and Alice.

Boulware

From Marshall Wingfield's "History of Caroline County, Virginia," page 384, the following is taken: "There are several branches of this family in Caroline, all of whom, according to family tradition, similarity of names, etc., came from the same ancestor, who came over from England and settled at the place now known as Boulware's Wharf in Essex County."

The name is spelled several ways, as Boulware, Bowler, Bolware, but is pronounced as Bowler.

The first record we find of the name is in 1653, as follows: "Lancaster county indebted to John Boulware on account of Burgesses ..£9-1-8." This John may have been the John Boulware whose will was drawn in April, 1714, and proved in May of the same year. In it, he gives to one of his sons land which he had bought from his brother William. Whether this William was the same who bought land with his brother James Bowler in 1666 is not certain. Thomas Page deeded 783 acres to William and James Boulware on December 23d of that year. A division of this land between the two is recorded in 1674, and a deed given by William Bowler and his wife Elizabeth to Simon Davis on February 26th, 1688, stipulates, that the land conveyed is part of the tract sold by Thomas Page "unto the said William Boulware and my brother James Boulware." As noted above, however, there is no direct evidence to show that the William who had sold to his brother John is the same William who purchased with his brother James. It is not improbable, for they all lived and died in Old Rappahannock and Essex Counties.

In William Gray's will, James Boulware was named as his son-in-law. The Old Rappahannock and Essex county records show numerous purchases and sales of land by James Bowler. "A True and Perfect Rent Roll of all lands held in Essex County for the Year 1704"(6) lists James Bowler as possessing 800 acres. His will was made in 1713 and proved in 1718. His wife, Margery (Gray) Bowler, was named executrix. The children were James, Mark, Benjamin, John, William, Mary and Grace. Other children "who are home with me and have nothing" are remembered in the will, but are not specifically named. He does not mention his daughter Sarah, possibly because she had received an inheritance from her uncle, Warwick Gray, in 1699. There is a record, which we shall presently quote, showing that Sarah Bowler and James Samuel, the son of

(6) Va. Mag., Vol. 33, p.359

Anthony Samuel, were married prior to 1714.

Anthony Samuel

The first record we find of Anthony Samuel is in 1703, when he bought 100 acres of land, more or less, of William Williams, paying three thousand pounds of tobacco and cash for it. The transaction is recorded in the following quaint fashion: "Lonery Lefham the within mentioned Land Delivered by William Williams unto Anthony Samuel by turf and twig in the presence of us."

The rent roll just referred to also lists Anthony Samuel (page 367) as possessing 300 acres of land in 1704. The Essex County records also list further land transactions to which Anthony Samuel was a party.

In his will, Anthony first bequeathes 100 acres to each of two sons, Anthony, Jr., and James. Then his homestead of 416 acres to two younger sons, Henry and Thomas, with provision that his wife Mary shall enjoy its possession during her life, and stipulating further that the two younger sons shall make no attempt to acquire possession of the smaller legacies of the two older sons.

From this, we may reasonably conclude that Anthony was twice married, and that the two older sons, Anthony, Jr., and James, were children of the first wife, whose name we do not know. This surmise is strengthened by Anthony's statement in the will that he is "very aged", and from the fact that he appoints his wife Mary as executrix. He would hardly have done this if she, too, had been very aged. The will was drawn on Nov. 27, 1729, and proved on the 15th of June, 1731.

James Samuel

James Samuel, the second son, and Sarah Boulware were married prior to 1714, for the records show that in that year they deeded some land which Sarah had inherited from her uncle, Warwick Gray, to Paul Micou. Then, in 1723, they sold to Paul Micou some more of this same inheritance. There are further records in Essex County relating to the purchase and sale of other lands by James Samuel.

The will of James Samuel was recorded May 16th, 1759. The following heirs were named: Wife Sarah as executrix; children James, Mark, Hannah Shaddock, Henry, Mary Martin, Foster, Tamer Young and Avarilla.

Shaddock

Hannah Shaddock, the wife of James Shaddock, was mentioned in the will of her father, James Samuel, as receiving one-half of what Sarah Boulware Samuel, her mother, left after her decease, while Avarilla, Hannah's sister, was to receive the other half.

James Shaddock, her husband, served in the Revolutionary War (7), and he was listed in the 1783 census as Head of a family of Essex County, Virginia. His will was drawn January the 10th, 1793, and was recorded in 1795. He lends all his estate, both real and personal, to his wife Hannah during her natural life. Then, he continues: "I lend unto my daughter, Sarah Halbert, all the lands I possess during her natural life, after her decease and the decease of her husband James Halbert, my will and desire is that the land be then sold to the highest bidder & the money arising from the sale of my land to be equally divided among her children together with the land purchased by James Halbert of James Shaddock Jr." etc. Margaret Mitchel, another daughter, also received an inheritance. The two sons-in-law, James Halbert and Mark Mitchel, were named executors.

In the Deed Book of 1794, James Halbert buys 134 acres of land from James and Hannah Shaddock, James Jr., and Catherine, his wife. There is also a deed, of date October 15th, 1795, "between James Shaddock Jr., and Catherine, his wife, of Caroline Co., Va. and James Halbert, of Essex Co., Va., a certain tract of land in Essex County, fifty-four acres, being the land which Avarilla Samuel, dec'd devised in her last will and testament should be equally divided between James Shaddock and John Halbert, a son of the said James Halbert."

Halbard, Halbart, Halbert

"Joel Halbert was a Welsh immigrant and came to Virginia about 1730.... He and his wife settled in Caroline County, Virginia,..."(8) Caroline County adjoins Essex. In Will Book 5, page 175, of Essex County, is found an account of the administration of the estate of one, William Halbert (or Halbard--the name is spelled both ways in the papers of administration). Joel Halbard is the administrator. "If it does hereafter appear that any last will and testament was made by the said dec'd. the exect's therein named doe exhibit ye same unto ye said court making request to have it allowed & approved accordingly, if the said Joel being thereunto required do render and deliver up his letters of administration approbation of suits and &c. 19th, Feby. 1733."

(8) E. D. Acker, "History of the Acker-Halbert Family." Page 13. Lincoln, Ala., 1928

In the same book is found an itemization of the estate, furniture, cattle, etc. Since no will was found and no children were named in the administration papers of William Halbert's estate, our supposition is that this Joel and William were brothers. William was a family name in Joel Halbert's family as well as in the Halbert family we are tracing. Joel had a son William who moved to So. Carolina after the Revolution. It seems probable, therefore, that the William whose estate had been administered by Joel was the father of the William Halbert whose will was proved in Essex County in 1761. In this will, the name was spelled Halbert, Halbart and Halbard, as in the old papers of administration of 1733. To his son James he gives the plantation on which he lives; to his wife Mary, all his personal estate until death or marriage. After her decease, it is to be equally divided between his daughters, Hannah Newman, Frances, Patty, Ann, Elizabeth and son William Halbert. His wife Mary was appointed administratrix.

James Halbert, the oldest son of William and Mary, served in the American army during the Revolution (9) and was listed as the head of a family in the 1783 census of Essex County. The records of the county show that James Halbert bought and sold lands, witnessed wills, deeds, etc.

The minutes of The Upper Essex Baptist Church were searched for items relating to the Halberts. The minutes were imperfectly kept, but the following items were noted:

August 11, 1811 - James Halbert - Baptised.
Rosanna Halbert - dismissed - January, 1833.

(9) List of Rev. Soldiers of Va., p. 196. Report of State Librarian James Halbert. Aud. Acct. XVIII, p. 474.

In searching the old records we often found that Patsy and Martha were used interchangeably. In Order Book 42, page 186 we find "May 20, 1816. It appearing to the satisfaction of the Court that Patsy Halbert the wife of John Halbert, who was Patsy Ross is the legal heir of William Ross who enlisted as a soldier in the United States service and who is said to be dead. On the motion of John Halbert the same is ordered to be certified."

William Halbert - dismissed many years since.

Patsy Halbert - dismissed - May 2d, 1830.

John Halbert - Baptised - August 1821 - Dismissed May 2d 1830.

James Halbert made his will December the 4th, 1811, and it was proved on May 17th, 1819. He gave to his son William Halbert and daughter, Mary Goldman, three negroes, to them and their heirs. To his wife Sally, all his estate, both real and personable, during her life-time; after her death, to be given to his five sons, John, James, Thomas, Anthony and Lewis. John and James were appointed executors.

John Halbert

John Halbert, the son of James and Sarah Shaddock Halbert, was born, probably about 1783 or 1784, for Powers, in his "Early Settlers of Sangamon County, Illinois," page 347, says that Dr. James Halbert was born August the 19th, 1785, Essex County, Va., and we know that John was older.

On the eighth day of January, 1807, a marriage bond was issued to John Halbert and Martha Ross. Insert In 1810, James Halbert Sr. and Sarah, his wife, conveyed to John, their son, the land Avarilla Samuel, his great aunt had willed him. The records show that, in 1821, James Halbert Jr. and wife Nancy sold part of their inheritance from their father to John. In 1822, Thomas, another brother, and his wife Susanna sold part of their inheritance to John. In 1823, Thomas and wife Susanna, John and wife Martha, and Sarah, their mother, sold land to a William Gray, who, in all probability, was a descendent of the William Gray whose name was on the tax list of Lancaster County in 1656.

On March 28th, 1827, John Halbert and his wife Martha, and James Halbert made a "Gift Deed" to the trustees of Upper Essex Baptist Church of about an acre of land. This deed was proved at the Essex Court House, April 21st, 1829. In November of 1830, John and Martha sold 171 acres, one rod and eight poles to William Gray, with the provision that John Halbert should have the use of a graveyard on the land.

After selling his farm, John moved west with his family and bought land in the southeastern part of St. Clair County, Illinois, in 1838.(10) He lived on this farm until his death, Sept. 19th, 1844. Martha, his wife, died February 1st, 1856. His will was probated September the 10th, 1844. He left to his wife Martha all of his estate both personal and real, during her life. The following children were named: John P., Martha A., David W., James S., Joseph, Thomas, Catherine McGuire, Mary Ann Marshall, Sarah James. The wife, Martha, and son, David W., were named as executrix and executor.

Catherine Halbert was born in Essex County, Va., on the 1st of August, 1820. She came west with her parents and located with them in St. Clair Co., Ill., in 1838. On September the 3d, 1840, she and Joseph D. McGuire, of the same county, were married.

McGuire

The parents of Joseph D. McGuire were Thomas and Susanna Hill McGuire. The first authentic record we have of them is in Conneaut Tp., Crawford Co., Pa., where they received--whether by purchase or by other means, we do not know--100 acres of land from The Pennsylvania Population Company. In the following year, Thomas McGuire is recorded as a tax-payer in that township.(11)

In 1819, Thomas, his wife Susanna and their children moved from Crawford Co., Pa., to St. Clair Co., Ill. Thomas died a short time after coming to his new home. He left no will, so his estate was settled by his wife Susanna.

These epitaphs were taken from the McGuire tombstones in the Rittenhouse Cemetery near Freeburg Rd., St. Clair Co., Ill.

To Thomas and Susanna the following children were born: Nancy Clarissa, Benjamin, Margaret (Stookey), Mary (Miller), Eleanor (Stookey), Joseph D., Susan (Brickley), and William. Susan died on the farm bought by her first husband, Thomas McGuire.

Joseph D. McGuire was born in Crawford County, Pa., April 27th, 1817. He was only two years old when his parents moved from Pennsylvania to St. Clair County, Illinois. His father died when he was only six years old. His schooling was meagre, for, in that neighborhood, schools were held in log cabins. At the age of 18, he had saved $100 and he entered 80 acres of land in Smithtown Township at the land office in Kaskasia. He married Catherine Halbert on September the third, 1840. Several children were born to them there before 1855, in which year he sold his St. Clair County land and bought in Macon County. Only 45 acres of the 165 he bought were under cultivation at the time.

(11) History of Macon Co., Ill., 1880, Edwardsville, Ill., records that Thomas McGuire, of Irish ancestry was born in Pennsylvania, while his wife, Susan Hill, was a native of New Jersey.

Joseph D. died on March the 24th, 1893. As he left no will, Catherine, his wife, petitioned the court to grant letters of administration to Theodore J. McGuire, her son. The deceased left surviving him Mary E. Hamilton, John D., Benjamin H., Lyman T., Joseph A., Theodore J., Ida I. Darst and Edward.

Mary Eleanor McGuire was born on July 24th, 1841, in St. Clair County, Ill. She came to Macon County with her parents in 1855, and she and Richard M. Hamilton were married there Febr. 5th, 1867.

Hambleton, Hamilton

Harrison County, Ky., was formed from Bourbon and Scott counties in 1793. In the old tax lists of Harrison Co., kept at Frankfort, we find Thomas Hamilton's name in 1794. In his family were two males over 21 and one under 21. He possessed nine horses and eighteen cows. The next year he paid taxes on 200 acres of land and additional stock. In 1796 he had acquired 400 acres of land.

His will was written on the 16th of Nov., 1802, and proved in the October court of 1803. In it, the name was spelled both Hambleton and Hamilton. He gave to his sons David, John, William,

James, and Andrew all of his land. "Be it remembered that I have given to all the rest of my Children what I intend to give them but leave to my wife's discretion to give any of them as she may think proper. I give and bequeath to my beloved wife all my moveable property houses and plantation I now live on during her natural life and then to be disposed of as before mentioned..." "William Elliot Boswell, my faithful friend" was appointed executor. So far we have been unable to learn the name of Thomas Hamilton's wife or where they lived before coming to Harrison Co., Ky. We derive the name of one daughter, Sarah, through a marriage record.

On the 24th of June, 1795, the Clerk of Harrison Co., (William Moore) issued a license for the marriage of John Hamilton and Mary Curry. The minister was given as Achilles Easton. By his father's will and gift, John had received about 134 acres of land. In the early years of the settlement of Kentucky titles to land were sometimes hard to get. Thomas Hamilton had bought his land from Holt and McMillan, and it was not until 1819 that the heirs of Thomas had received a clear title to their inheritance. A record of 1838 shows that John Hamilton and Mary, his wife, divided their land equally among their children. John made his will June 2, 1846. In part it says: "Having divided my land heretofore between my children William, Thomas, John, Joseph C., Nancy Canter, and Elizabeth McDaniel, Reserving for myself and wife during life, a lot of 16 acres including all the buildings, I desire that my said wife shall have the use and control of said lot during her life. I give to my wife Mary Hamilton all my household and kitchen furniture, one cow and all the stock of horses I may have on hand to be her own and at her disposal." This will was recorded on July 3, 1848. Joseph C. was named executor.

On August 30th, 1834, a marriage bond was issued to Joseph C. Hamilton, born in 1816, and Mary Morgan, born in 1815. The 1850 census shows that Mary Hamilton was living in their family and that she was 76 years old and also that she was born in Virginia. It is our belief that Thomas Hamilton and his family came from Virginia, also.

Joseph C. and Mary lived in Harrison Co., Ky., on part of the land which John had inherited from his father, Thomas. To them were born the following children: Nancy A., John W., Richard M., Paschal K., James K., Joseph W., Mary S., George G., and Sarah. The youngest child Sarah was born in 1850 and between that time and 1858 Mary, the wife of Joseph C., died. In August, 1933, the writer visited the Bedford farm, which has on it the old Hamilton graveyard. It was almost entirely destroyed, but a tombstone of Thomas Hamilton, a son of John, was found, bearing the date of 1847. Mary, the wife of Joseph C., was supposed to be buried there, too, but no marker bearing her name was found.

The records show that Joseph C. sold the last of his land to Paschal Kirtley in 1858. In this same year, he moved to Macon Co., Ill., where he bought a farm. On September 2d, 1865, he died. He left no will, so papers of administration were issued to his son, Richard M.

Richard M. Hamilton was born on May 12, 1840, in Harrison Co., Ky., and came to Macon Co., Ill., with his father in 1858. On August 6th, 1862, he enrolled as sergeant in Co. E., 116th Reg.,

Illinois Infantry Volunteers, for three years. This regiment was a part of Sherman's beloved Fifteenth Army Corps that participated in all his western campaigns and in his march to the sea. Richard M. Hamilton was promoted and mustered out with honorable discharge as a captain at Washington, D. C., June 7th, 1865.

He married Mary Eleanor McGuire on February 5th, 1867, and they lived on the farm bought by his father in 1858. He bought the land from the other heirs and, at his death, he owned over 400 acres. He joined Dunham Post, G. A. R., at Decatur, Ill., in 1884.

On July 22d, 1902, Richard M. made his will, naming his wife, Mary Eleanor, as executrix. The children named were: Dr. Howard, Dr. Charles, Edna Watson, Katharine, Arthur, Gertrude Goodnight, Joseph C., Walter, Owen, Blanche and Roy. The will was recorded August 1, 1902.

Gertrude Hamilton, born July 31st, 1876, and Scott Holland Goodnight (12) were married on Sept. 3d, 1901, in Macon Co., Ill. They have made their home in Madison, Wis. To them have been born Eleanor Constance and Scott Hamilton.

Eleanor Constance, born Dec. 6th, 1905, married Dr. John Taylor Morrison on June 21st, 1927. Their children are Jean Elizabeth, born Febr. 7th, 1930, and John Taylor, junior, born April 23d, 1934.

Dr. Scott Hamilton Goodnight was born April 9th, 1908; he married Julia Haugen Grosvenor, of Chicago, on June 30th, 1934.
